DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1- 3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102 (e) as being anticipated by Yamagishi (U.S. 2003 /0025805 A1).

Regarding claim1, Yamagishi discloses (refer to figure 2) a lens apparatus (10) capable of performing serial communication with a camera body (100) comprising: a selection device, which permits or prohibits the serial communication (paragraph 0031, paragraph 0074, and paragraph 0080).

Regarding claim 2, Yamagishi discloses, the serial communication is prohibited by selection device, parallel communication is performed with a camera body (100) (paragraph 0042).

Regarding claim 3, Yamagishi discloses, the serial communication is prohibited by selection device a processing speed of a processing circuit loaded in to lens apparatus is reduced (paragraphs 0031and 0032).

Art Unit: 2873

2. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The closest prior art

Uenaka et al discloses (US 2002/0114625 A1) discloses a camera system having a communication system between a camera body and a photographing lens.

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments filed 10/27/2004 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

In response to applicant's argument Yamagishi (U.S. 2003 /0025805 A1) discloses (refer to figure 2) a lens apparatus (10) capable of performing serial communication with a camera body (100) having a selection device, which permits or prohibits the serial communication (paragraph 0031, paragraph 0074, and paragraph 0080). Yamagishi further discloses, a shutter (12) with an aperture function and a memory control circuit 22 (paragraph 0032). A shutter with an aperture function permits or prohibits the communication within the camera system. A serial communication can be performing by a lens to camera body or a camera body to lens.

Conclusion

4. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
